What's the aim of the Cautious Plan and who is it for?

The aim of the Cautious Plan is to achieve returns level with the Bank of England base rate (before fees). This Plan is suitable for risk-conscious investors whose focus is on stable returns across different market environments.

They are still open to taking on small amounts of risk, but their focus is more on preserving their money and preventing losses, rather than making large gains. While investing should always be part of a long-term strategy (5+ years), this Plan could be considered for a shorter time horizon, as the large proportion of cash equivalent assets should protect from market drops (although this is not guaranteed).

Investing always involves some level of risk, and up-and-down movements in value are to be expected. With the Cautious Plan, our aim is to limit the extent of these movements, but there is still a risk you may get back less than invested. Money can be withdrawn at any time.

What makes the Cautious Plan different?

The example below shows a typical mix of investments for a Cautious Plan. It can hold between 70% and 90% in Cash and Cash Equivalents (Money Market Funds), with the remainder in low-risk investments (Short Duration Corporate Bonds and Defensive Alternative assets).

The chart above shows the range for the Cautious Plan, which will always be invested in 100% of low-risk assets.

What's the aim of the Tentative Plan and who is it for?

The aim of the Tentative Plan is to generate reasonable growth over the longer term. Investing always involves some level of risk and movement up and down in value is to be expected.

The Tentative Plan is suitable for investors who prioritise limiting losses over high returns, and are willing to see moderate movements up and down in the value to try and get reasonable growth from their investments. But there is still a risk that you could get back less than invested.

Investing should be part of a long-term savings strategy and whilst money can be withdrawn at any time, investing for less than 5 years is unlikely to be appropriate for a Tentative Plan.

What makes the Tentative Plan different?

The example below shows a typical mix of investments for a Tentative Plan, but it can hold between 30% and 55% high-risk investments (Commodities, Emerging Market Bonds, Private Equity, Shares and Property), with the remainder in low-risk investments (Bonds, Cash, and Cash Equivalents).

What's the aim of the Ethical Tentative Plan and who is it for?

The aim of our Ethical Tentative Plan is to generate reasonable growth over the longer term while aiming to avoid investments in harmful activities such as tobacco, gambling, weapons and adult entertainment. Our Ethical Tentative Plan features funds that actively invest in companies demonstrating the highest environmental, social and governance practices.

The Plan can contain up to 25 mutual funds from different regions around the world and is mostly made up of shares and bonds. Some thematic funds will focus on themes such as gender equality (companies that strongly champion these issues) or green energy.

The Ethical Tentative Plan is suitable for investors who prioritise limiting losses over high returns and are willing to see moderate movements up and down in the value to try to get reasonable growth from their investments. But there is still a risk that you could get back less than invested.

Investing should be part of a long-term savings strategy and whilst money can be withdrawn at any time, investing for less than 5 years is unlikely to be appropriate for an Ethical Tentative Plan. Investors should be aware that few ethical funds employ currency hedging, which may see divergence in performance between original and ethical plans.

What makes the Ethical Tentative Plan different?

The example below shows a typical mix of high and low risk investments used in our Ethical Plans. The Ethical Tentative Plan can hold between 30% and 55% of high risk investments (Shares & Property) with the remainder in low risk investments (Bonds, Cash, Cash Equivalents), but this can vary.

The chart above shows the range for the Ethical Tentative Plan, which can include a minimum of 45% low risk assets and a minimum of 30% high risk assets.

Typical Investments in an Ethical Tentative Plan

This is an example of the typical investments you might see in an Ethical Confident Plan. We use a blend of passive and active funds. Some funds may exclude companies that profit from harmful activities, whilst others may invest in companies provided they earn no more than 10% of their profits from the activity. So we cannot guarantee that our Plans won't contain some degree of the activities we aim to exclude.

Foreign currency

An Ethical Ambitious Plan could contain up to 75% in overseas investments which are held in a foreign currency.

Typically, the more foreign currency held in a Plan, the greater the risk and potential volatility.

What's the aim of the Ethical Adventurous Plan and who is it for?

The aim of our Ethical Adventurous Plan is to generate growth over the longer term while also aiming to avoid investments in harmful activities such as tobacco, gambling, weapons and adult entertainment. Our Ethical Adventurous Plan features funds that actively invest in companies demonstrating the highest environmental, social and governance practices.

The Plan can contain up to 25 mutual funds from different regions around the world and is mostly made up of shares and bonds. Some 'thematic funds' will focus on themes such as gender equality (companies that strongly champion these issues) or green energy.

The Ethical Adventurous Plan is suitable for investors focused on maximising potential gains, and willing to see substantial movements up and down in value to try to achieve high returns.

Investing should be part of a long-term savings strategy, and whilst money can be withdrawn from a Wealthify Plan at any time, investing for less than 5 years is unlikely to be appropriate for an Ethical Adventurous Plan. Investors should be aware that few ethical funds employ currency hedging, which may see divergence in performance between original and ethical plans.

What makes the Ethical Adventurous Plan different?

The example below shows a typical mix of high and low risk investments used in our Ethical Plans. The Ethical Adventurous Plan can hold between 80% and 100% of high risk investments (Shares & Property) with the remainder in low risk investments (Bonds, Cash, Cash Equivalents), but this can vary.

The chart above shows the range for the Ethical Adventurous Plan, which can include a minimum of 0% low risk assets and a minimum of 80% high risk assets.

Typical Investments in an Ethical Adventurous Plan

This is an example of the typical investments you might see in an Ethical Adventurous Plan. We use a blend of passive and active funds. Some funds may exclude companies that profit from harmful activities, whilst others may invest in companies provided they earn no more than 10% of their profits from the activity. So we cannot guarantee that our Plans won't contain some degree of the activities we aim to exclude.
